

BIG NATIONS NEAR WAR

Russian and British Forces
Are Facing a Battle in China.

TROOPS ALL IN LINE

Critical Situation Over Disputed Territory in Province of Tien Tsin.

RUSSIANS DIGGING TRENCHES

London, March 16.—News from China this morning is of such extremely grave tenor that talk of an Anglo-Russian war veers from possibility to probability.

That the czar is determined to retain the disputed railway land in Tien-Tsin at whatever cost is evidenced by the fact that Russian troops are now in an entrenched position thereon.

Troops In Line of Battle.

That Great Britain is equally resolved to have possession of this strip of territory, by force of arms if necessary, is proved by her ranks of soldiers, with fixed bayonets standing in line of battle only a stone's throw from the Russians, and only awaiting the order to strike.

Tien-Tsin reports this as the present sensational situation, and adds that both sides "are awaiting instructions from their government." Russia has been heard from openly, though secret orders have undoubtedly been sent from St. Petersburg. Britain's voice unmistakably sounded the tocsin in the house of commons yesterday.

Britain On Record.

Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India, replying to a question, said "the authorities on the spot were dealing with the question."

Tuesday, General Barrow, British chief of staff at Peking, when notified that the Russians were opposing British occupation of the disputed land, wired Colonel McDonald in command at Tien-Tsin, to "carry on the siding with armed force if necessary."

The deduction is alarmingly plain. Germany is steadfast.

Berlin and Washington dispatches to London this morning greatly clarify the international phase of the impending conflict.

Count von Buelow reiterates Teutonic adherence to the Anglo-German pact, an essential feature of which is maintenance of the integrity of China, while diplomats in the United States already forecast Japan as fighting side by side with Great Britain.

Anglo-German Agreement.

Count von Buelow categorically declares there is any secret clause and then specifically and significantly adds Manchuria is not mentioned therein.

As permanent Russian possession of Manchuria will be the first step toward dismemberment, officials in Downing street assert that under present conditions the kaiser is in honor bound to sustain Britain's position.

Warning to Russia.

Diplomatic warning to St. Petersburg is seen in London when the German chancellor adds that the dread is unshaken and unshakable, and that Japan is now admittedly a great power in the far east, while much comment is caused by the fact that he has seemingly gone out of his way to take a sly dig at France, Russia's only open ally, by asserting that Germany's relations with her neighbor are friendly in most parts of the earth.

Action by United States.

Despite the fact that the United States government announced several months ago that her troops would be withdrawn from China at the earliest opportunity, yesterday's orders to General Chaffee to leave only a legation guard of 150 in that country by the end of next month is regarded as highly significant.

It is interpreted here as meaning that the United States realizes the imminence of international war in the Orient and is resolved not to be involved therein.

Fort Atkinson Canning Co.

Fort Atkinson, Wis., March 16.—The board of directors of the New Fort Atkinson Canning company elected the following officers: H. L. Hoard, president; John Hupert, vice president; P. H. Winterling, secretary; C. A. Caswell, treasurer. Over 600 acres of tomatoes, peas and corn will be secured this month. There are ninety-six stockholders, forty-seven of whom are farmers.

WOMAN CAUSES RUN ON BANK.

Natick, Mass., Savings Escapes Temporary Embarrassment.

Natick, Mass., March 16.—The Natick Five-Cent Savings bank, one of the strongest institutions in the state, has narrowly escaped temporary embarrassment. Many of the depositors are mill hands in Saxonville and Framingham. Yesterday a Saxonville woman called at the bank half an hour after it had closed for the day. Finding the doors locked, she went home and told every one she met the bank had failed. The news spread to Framingham, and this morning more than 700 people were waiting for the doors to open. They all demanded their money, the line growing constantly, and the officials entirely ignorant of the cause of the run. It was not until several hundred accounts had been closed that the bank officers discovered the cause of the trouble and stopped the run. Fortunately, there was money enough on hand to meet all demands.

CENSUS OF INDIA HAS BEEN TAKEN

Total Population of the British Empire in Asia is Shown to Be 294,000,000.

Calcutta, March 16.—The census of India, which has just been completed, shows a population of 294,000,000, an apparent increase of 7,600,000 in ten years.

The population has, however, for the first time really remained stationary, the increase being due to improved methods in taking the census.

Owing to the two famines that have raged since the last census and the mortality from disease there has been a great decline in the birth rate.

The natives' states show an excessive decline in the birth rate. This result was quite unexpected.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—The census office has received through the state department a consular report on the population of the German empire. It is now about 58,000,000 larger than that of any county in Europe with the exception of Russia, which has in Europe alone over 106,000,000 subjects. In 1845 Germany had 34,000,000; in 1855, 40,000,000; in 1885, 47,000,000. France has about 38,000,000 or only two thirds the number of Germany. In 1845 France had 34,000,000.

GEN. TRIAS AND HIS STAFF SURRENDER

Manila, March 16.—General Trias and the members of his staff surrendered today at Santa Cruz de Malabon and took the oath of allegiance to the United States. His troops are marching to San Francisco de Malabon, where they will formally surrender to Lieutenant Reeves, an aid of the United States.

The Thirty-second volunteer infantry, which has long been doing duty in the provinces and will sail for home shortly, arrived here today.

The Thirty-fifth volunteer infantry and men sailed today, with 24 officers and 806 men. Originally the regiment consisted of 50 officers and 1,300 men. Of this number ten were killed in action, 100 have returned to the United States on sick leave, and 20 officers and 188 men remain here.

IN A BIG ROUNDUP OF WILD ANIMALS

Four Indians and Many Wild Beasts Are Killed in a Drag Net in State of Texas.

El Paso, Tex., March 16.—In a roundup of wild animals that has just taken place on the cattle ranches of Colin Campbell in Cache County, a count of the dead bodies showed the number killed to be twelve black bears, seven grizzlies, and nineteen mountain lions, two lynx and about a hundred and fifty coyotes.

Four Indians were killed by the beasts and several were injured. Dozens of dogs were killed.

One hundred Indians belonging to the Pima tribe and about twenty cowboys comprised the roundup party. They were aided by two hundred dogs. Many of the animals, infuriated by the attacks of the dogs, attempted to break through the line, but were met with volleys of bullets and shot down.

TAKE A LAST LOOK AT REMAINS OF HARRISON

Body Lies in State at the Capitol Building—Troops Guard the Casket—Funeral Tomorrow Afternoon Will Be Very Simple.

Indianapolis, March 16.—Garbed in a black frock suit and with a face composed and restful, the body of Indiana's most honored son, General Benjamin Harrison, today was removed from his late residence to the rotunda of the capitol building, escorted by his old regiment, the Seventeenth Indiana, and the entire national guard of the state.

All the afternoon thousands filed through the state house and passed the casket to take a last look upon the distinguished soldier, statesman and citizen and tonight other thousands will view the body until ten o'clock when the remains will be escorted back to the home by the Indianapolis companies of national guards.

Contrary to the expectations the weather was all that could be desired for the preliminary ceremony. The sun shone with brightness, the air was cool and pleasant, all contributing to make the spectacle the most magnificent witnessed in this state. The troops massed at the south entrance of the state house, marching thence to Harrison's home, where they were joined by members of the municipal government, social and political clubs, lawyers, distinguished citizens, and the Seventeenth Indiana which had the place of honor.

The railway excursions added countless sightseers to the local throngs.

The funeral tomorrow at the first Presbyterian church will be without display of any kind beyond the attendance of President Harrison's cabinet, governors of states, senators, congressmen and citizens. The St. Patrick's day parade has been abandoned out of respect for the dead.

From shortly before noon until two this afternoon business in the city was at a stand still while the city, county, state officials, courts and justices and the whole municipality were pausing to pay their respect. The decorations along the line of march were not general however. The streets were lined with thousands as the procession passed with stately and dignified steps.

CARNEGIE CAPS THE CLIMAX OF GIFTS

Gives $5,000,000 to New York and $1,000,000 to St. Louis for Public Libraries.

New York, March 16.—At one stroke Andrew Carnegie has given New York city $5,200,000 to provide for sixty-five branch libraries. Like all of his gifts the offer is conditional on building sites and maintenance being furnished by the city. The gift is the most stupendous yet made by the wizard who waves his wand and turns steel ignots into books and libraries. He is almost shocked himself by his prodigality.

With the ink just drying on the letter mailing this gift, it is announced that Mr. Carnegie has given $1,000,000 to St. Louis for library purposes. Mr. Carnegie is determined not to die "disgraced," for to die rich, he believes to be equivalent to disgrace, therefore, he has begun to give away more libraries and bigger ones. The map that indicates the location of prospective libraries is being thickly dotted with "library pins" by the liberal hand of the little Scotchman. Mr. Carnegie demands everywhere that the libraries which he founds shall be free to rich and poor alike and shall be unrestricted.

Crispi Attacked by Illness.

Rome, March 16.—Signor Crispi, the celebrated Italian statesman and former premier, during an audience of Dower Queen Margherita, was attacked by a sudden illness and fell to the floor, slightly injuring his head. He received immediate medical attention and was able to return to his hotel. Later it was reported that he was feeling better.

SIXTY PEOPLE PERISH IN A FIRE AWFUL CATASTROPHE IN ALABAMA

Terrible Story Told by the Single Survivor in a Turpentine Camp Disaster—Those Who Were Burned Were Mostly Negroes.

Mobile, Ala., March 16.—News has just reached here of the most horrible catastrophe in the history of Alabama. A big turpentine camp located across the bay in Baldwin county was burned at an early hour this morning and sixty people, mostly colored, are supposed to have perished in the fire. So far as is known only one man survived and he is so frightfully burned that it is only with great difficulty that he could tell of his frightful experience after reaching here.

The survivor is Frank C. Pressler, a white cutter, who was employed in the camp. After lying nearly all day in the swamp near where the isolated camp was located he was able to row naked, across to Mobile and tell his story. The exertion of pulling the boat and the pain caused to his badly burned hands was so great that he had to be attended to by a physician before he could talk. After being revived by stimulants Pressler told of his experience.

"I am so dazed by what I witnessed last night," said he, "that I hardly know how it all happened. Our camp, you know is miles from any settlement and bounded on one side by a swamp and on the other by an immense forest. Our shack was a long frame building and in it slept the whole force of sixty-one men, if I remember correctly."

"In a shed near us were 600 barrels of raw turpentine. The first I knew of the fire was when I was awakened by the intense heat and the crackling of timbers around me. Fortunately I was sleeping near the door and rushed out into the open when I discovered that none of the others escaped."

Pressler is of the opinion that the fire was started by three negroes who were discharged yesterday morning. The owner of the camp is James Holloway from somewhere in Wisconsin. He is not known here. He was out of camp yesterday, but Pressler does not know of his whereabouts. Forty-five of the men who are thought to have perished are negroes.

PLATT AMENDMENT REJECTED.

Cuban Committee Comes to a Unanimous Decision.

Havana, March 16.—The committee on foreign relations held another private meeting in the afternoon. Senor de Quesada, one of the members, said the committee agreed unanimously that the Platt amendment in its present form could not be accepted, and that a report to this effect would be submitted to the constitutional convention. He also asserts that the committee is assured of the support of twenty-eight delegates. Monday the committee will meet again, when individual opinions on the question will be filed, to be incorporated later into the final report. The intention of the committee is not to make a final report for some time, but Senor de Quesada declares that this delay will not weaken the determination of its members not to accept the Platt amendment as it stands.

SOME DOUBT ABOUT THE SUNDAY LAWS

McKinley Signed the Appropriation Bills on March 3—Fear That They Be Declared Void.

Washington, March 16.—The President's action in approving appropriation bills on Sunday, March 3, has had all official Washington in a fret lest the laws should be declared void. A declaration of the illegality of such laws by the attorney general would require an extra session of congress to reappropriate more than $300,000,000 to keep the wheels of government running during the fiscal year.

The question of the legality of the laws was first raised in the office of the comptroller of the treasury, one of the officials of which communicated with the state department. Mr. Allen, the librarian of the state department, who sees to the printing of these laws, found upon examination that the appropriation laws named had been approved on Sunday and concluded upon examination that if the matter was brought into the courts that the judiciary would sustain the legality of the laws notwithstanding their approval on Sunday.

DE RODAY'S WAS HIT IN THE THIGH

Boni Castellane Comes Off Untouched in His Duel At Paris Today—Only One Shot Fired.

Paris, March 16.—De Rodays was wounded in his duel with Castellane this afternoon, but Castellane was untouched.

The duel occurred promptly at three o'clock. Twenty-five paces were stepped off and the contestants took stations. One shot was fired and De Rodays fell wounded in the thigh. The injury, though painful is not considered serious.

MEDICI FAMILY IS ART LEAGUE SUBJECT

History Section of the Art League Met with Mrs. Ashcraft on Friday—Details of the Meeting.

The History Section of the Art League met with Mrs. Ashcraft on Friday. Mrs. Mills presided and Mrs. Tanberg acted as secretary. In the absence of Mrs. Kimberly, Mrs. T. O. Howe opened the program on the Medici family with a short sketch of Pietro. Mrs. Baker read a paper on Giuliano who was best admired for his admirable temperament and because he kept his promises. Mrs. Howe treated of Lorenzo II, who died young but was the hero prince written of by Machiavelli. Mrs. Tarrant read a paper prepared by Mrs. Kimberly on Katherine, the Queen Mother who held a prominent and sinister part in the affairs of France. She was the mother of five crowned heads and was one of the most wicked women of those wicked times. Mrs. Ward spoke of her career as a prisoner. Mrs. Mills read a paper on Marie who became the wife of the king of France. She was called the Fat Baroness of Florence and died in utter destitution in a hay-loft.

The exercises were concluded by a general discussion on current events and the reading of an article on Dagman Bouyeret's pictures now on exhibition in Chicago.

Sharp Skirmish With the Boers

London, March 16.—Lord Kitchener's reports from Pretoria that his Devonshire regiment captured a Boer laager at Krugerspost in the northeast Transvaal. There was a sharp fight. The British loss is one killed and four wounded.

Assemblyman Charles L. Valentine

is home from Madison to spend Sunday.

SOLONS WILL HUSTLE NOW

Adjournment of Legislature Will Probably Come About May 15.

SPRATT WILL FIGHT IT

Sheboygan County Much Dissatisfied with Assembly Redistricting Measure.

PRIMARY BILL IS IN DANGER

Madison, Wis., March 16.—The work of reapportioning the state into assembly districts has been completed by the special committee on apportionment, and was reported to the legislature on Friday in the shape of a bill introduced in both houses. No change has been made by the committee in the lines as laid out a week ago, and it is believed Mr. Spratt has been convinced that further protest against the reduction of Sheboygan county from three to two members is useless, though he will probably go through the formality of making a fight on the floor of the assembly.

Assemblyman Collins, one of the nineteen democratic members, is also dissatisfied because the county was cut from two assemblymen to one, and the democrats are talking of a caucus next week to decide as to their course on the bill. A few dissatisfied republicans may vote with them against it, but it is believed that the apportionment as reported by the committee will pass the assembly by a vote of at least 70 to 30 and that there will not be more than five votes against it in the senate.

The Senatorial Districts.

The make-up of senatorial districts is the next thing to be taken up by the apportionment committee, but there is already more talk of congressional districts than of the senatorial. Congressman Barney was here during the week looking after his district, the fifth, which he wants preserved in nearly its present shape. Milwaukee will probably get two congressmen, the main contention in this respect being as to what territory shall be added to Milwaukee county to make the necessary population qualification. Most of those outside of Milwaukee want Ozaukee county added, but as that county is democratic, by about 500 majority, the Milwaukee members prefer Waukesha, which is largely republican and would make both districts safe.

Primary Election Bill

The primary election question is no nearer solution now than it was a week ago. All kinds of reports are afloat as to what the assembly committee, which will report the bill first, is doing to it in the committee room. That it will be considerably amended is unquestioned, but none of the active supporters of the bill admit that any of these amendments remove any material features of the bill, and it is apparent that unless this is done it can not be passed. The friends of the bill are expressing more confidence than they did last week, but on what this confidence is based is not in evidence. Indications now are that the bill will be reported by the assembly committee next week. The report will favor the passage of the Stevens substitute bill. What this substitute will be is a mere matter of guesswork to those outside of the committee. It is known, however, that Assemblyman who are counted upon as staunch supporters of the governor have recommended some very radical changes. How far these recommendations have been regarded is not known and probably will not be until the bill reaches the clerk's desk.

Kill Woman's Suffrage Bill.

The woman's suffrage question has been disposed of for two years more, bills which would entitle them to vote having been killed in both houses. David Evans, Jr., has a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment giving woman suffrage which is still pending, but it will probably meet the same fate. While the legislature denies woman the ballot it will grant her other privileges. A bill providing for the appointment of a woman on the board of state university regents has gone to a third reading in the senate and will undoubtedly pass both houses. There are other bills still in the committee providing for a woman on the board of normal regents and one as a factory inspector, which will also probably pass.

There are nearly four hundred assembly bills still in the hands of the committees and the legislature will have to hustle to finish by May 1. The GET STRONGVinol Makes Weak People Strong.*WE GUARANTEE IT WILL DO SO.*WE KNOW OF NO TONIC OR RE-BUILDER LIKE IT.

Vinol does create strength. We know that and have proved it in many instances.

The reason Vinol rejuvenates and strengthens a person is that it acts directly upon the stomach, strengthening and toning up this great vital organ and enabling it to obtain for itself, from the food that is taken into it, the elements which are required to make firm healthy flesh and muscle tissue, sound bone structure and pure healthy blood.

Vinol does this in a scientific way and is enabled to do it because it contains, dissolved in a delicate mild wine, in a highly concentrated state, the active principles of cod-liver oil.

Vinol does not contain any of the grease that formerly characterized cod-liver oil, hence is free from all the objectionable features which made it impossible for patients to take or retain that vile-smelling remedy into their stomach.

Vinol in its favorable action upon the stomach and other organs of the body acts also in a beneficial way upon the nerves and brain, and will be found to be invaluable to brain workers as well as body workers.

The following letter is from a well-known authoress. It reads as follows: "I wish to acknowledge the receipt of the Vinol and testify to its great benefits. Since taking it I am much improved in health, and during the intense heat of last August I should not have been able to continue in my literary work if it had not been for the strengthening properties of Vinol. Yours in gratitude."—ELLA STARR, 106 W. 82d St., N. Y. City.

We wish any one suffering from weakness, a demoralized condition of the nerves, or a susceptibility to wasting diseases, to call on us and hear what we have to say in regard to Vinol.

Try it on our recommendation, and if you find it does not do everything we claim for it, we will gladly refund to you the amount you have paid us.

From Deep Sorrow to Great JoyWhat Mother's Love and Tender Care Failed to Accomplish Hood's Sarsaparilla Promptly Effected.

"I would cry every time I washed my baby!"
This plaintive sentence tells a volume of mother's agony. In such a dreadful condition from eruptions and sores, Mrs. Gueriot's child received the tenderest care that mother's love could give, and the most skillful medical attendance that father's means could provide. Yet all failed until they turned to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which in this as in thousands of other cases has seemed to be the last resort, yet it has not failed. The result was inevitable—just as certain to cure as that day follows night. Evening's weeping turned to morning's rejoicing. That is what Hood's Sarsaparilla will do for you if you will only let it. Just read Mrs. Gueriot's letter. It is a characteristic Hood's Sarsaparilla testimonial:

"My baby was three months old when festers broke out on his neck. The openings appeared like boils, spread down his back and along the spinal column until it appeared as one mass of sores. Our doctor prescribed for the case, but the disease spread and the little one's sufferings increased and he became a mere shadow. His pitiful wailing was heart-rending. It nearly crazed me, weary and worn-out as I was from constant watching and nursing. The discharge of matter was so profuse that it was necessary to dress his back three times a day. Every time the bandages were removed blood would flow and for a time even powders and different salves did not check the trouble. It became necessary to wrap the little body in silk. When the trouble appeared at its height our anxiety was increased by the appearance of a boil just outside the lid alongside one of his eyes. We feared lest the scrofulous matter get into the eye, and even if his life was spared to us, that his sight would become affected."

"I had about given up hope of saving my baby, when I was asked why I did not try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Eager for anything that held out hope, I procured a bottle of Hood's. I also got a cake of Hood's Medicated Soap and a box of Hood's Olive Ointment. I immediately laid aside all the doctor's medicines and gave the infant the smallest dose of the Sarsaparilla prescribed, and then took off the bandages and washed the mass of sores with the Medicated Soap. Next I applied the Olive Ointment and adjusted a fresh wrapping of silk. A change was noticeable the next Sunday, giving assurance that we had at last hit upon the treatment to successfully battle the poisonous blood.

"Slowly but with a perceptible gain, the discharge grew less, the inflammation disappeared, the surrounding skin took on a more healthy color, and what a short time before had been a mass of raw flesh began to scale over and gradually a thin skin formed and the scales dropped off. Not a scar or blemish around the eye, neck or back or anywhere on his body is to be found, and now at eight months old he is as bright, healthy and full grown as any child of that age. Less than two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, aided by Hood's Medicated Soap and Hood's Olive Ointment, accomplished this wonderful cure."

"I cannot begin to express my gratitude towards Hood's Sarsaparilla and your other medicines for the good they accomplished in my baby's case." Mrs. N. GUERIOT, 37 Myrtle St., Rochester, N. Y.

For the cure of all blood diseases and Spring Humors, Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled. Try it.

Start Girls Right!

Many beautiful girls become invalids for life, because at the crucial period of puberty they pay no attention to the laws of health. Mothers should protect their daughters' health by giving them necessary information and proper treatment. When the menses come on a girl unawares in her inexperience she is either frightened into convulsions, or scared into trying to check the flow. Many girls have checked the flow and it has never started again. And as a result they have grown pale-faced, with "crow's-feet" on their cheeks, and dark half-moons under their eyes. A dose of taken every morning after a girl is twelve years old will bring the menses on properly and keep them regular. It will help her to develop into attractive womanhood and equip her for the duties of wife and motherhood. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

The Hollywood, Ashbury Park, N. J., February 3, 1900.
I read your advertisement in regard to Wine of Cardui in the Baltimore American, and it so favorably impressed me that on my visit to Baltimore during the holidays I purchased a bottle of it for my adopted daughter, who was suffering with female troubles. She had been under the doctor's care for some time, and when her periods would come on her suffering was something terrible. I induced her to try it and the first dose brought on her menses. She took it regularly according to the directions, and was greatly relieved. To use her own words, "It saved my life." J. WEBLEY CROSS.

S' SH SLEEP AT LAST

LAXAKOLA DOES IT

NO ONE BUT A MOTHER can appreciate the benefit sleep gives to an ailing, teething, feverish, colicky, fretful infant. Almost distracted by its constant crying, and worn out with weary, anxious care and watching, she tries everything possible to obtain even relief for the little sufferer.

With what comfort and delight she sees her little one drop off into a deep peaceful health-giving slumber, after its little clogged bowels are cleared of their poisonous burden by a single dose of Laxakola, the great tonic laxative and mother's remedy.

Laxakola is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature, and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongue, or any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach it is invaluable.

Laxakola, the great tonic laxative, is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it cures two medicines, viz: laxative and tonic, and at one price. No other remedy gives so much for the money. At druggists, 5c, and 10c, or send for free sample to THE LAXAKOLA CO., 232 Nassau Street, N. Y., or 355 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

Trade supplied by King's Pharmacy and People's Drug Store.

SOURCES OF STRENGTH

The storm that sweeps down the valley, leveling fences, and shrubbery in its wake desolation and ruin, fights in vain against the sturdy oak that for a century has been developing strength for the encounter.

It may be stripped of foliage, and here and there a weak branch may succumb, as the tree bends to the blast and then springs back to resist the next attack, but the tree itself stands and when the storm is past it looks around upon the wreckage, a monument of strength and endurance.

If interest should prompt an investigation the appearance of the tree would be found to resemble in many ways its companions that were unable to resist the shock. No larger in diameter, no more healthy in bark or heart than its neighbor, that stretches its length along the ground.

What held the oak in place and helped it to resist the fury of the elements?

If you should go down below the surface and study the character and work of the invisible forces that are the sources of life itself, you would find a net work of roots and tendrils working their way quietly yet persistently down and ever downward toward the springs and fertile soil, that only the tree life knows how to cultivate.

If a hidden boulder is encountered the busy life is not discouraged, but creeping slowly yet surely around it, regardless of time and faithful to its purpose, until it clasps the obstruction firmly and says to the tree above the surface: "We have found another anchor, try it." And so as the tree bends and rocks before the blast, the unseen forces below the surface, clinging with death like grip, and the sources of strength have been equal to the test.

Human life resembles plant life in many ways. Men and women on the surface look very much alike. Put a hundred of them together, surrounded by like environments, and but little difference is detected, and yet no two of them are exactly alike.

Surface knowledge, which is the most superficial, is usually the only knowledge that people possess of each other. The man Johnson, who for twenty-five years enjoyed the confidence of everybody, and who was pointed out as a model young man, because of his honesty and marked ability, proved to be rotten below the surface, and the wrecking of the "Niles" bank was the result.

In the home where character is more exposed the husband and the wife are supposed to know each other and yet in the close and sacred relations of the home, there is a wonderful lack of this kind of knowledge.

This same man Johnson was a model husband and father, and the rude awakening that came to his home was like a flash of lightning out of a clear sky.

The wife had known him for twenty-five years. She had shared his confidence, and sacrificed for his comfort and pleasure, and he filled her heart with love and true devotion. The children honored him and worshiped him as an ideal father, and yet the wife and children only knew him in a superficial way. The same heart that beat so strongly for them was plotting for self, and the same brain that was so active for their welfare was planning to pursue a course that could only end in ruin.

There are a good many Johnsons scattered up and down the world. Not all bank wreckers, but human wreckers. Men who stand up straight, present a good appearance and pass in society as models of strength and uprightness, and yet so weak, that they go down before the storm, has fairly gathered. It is fortunate for many people that their lives are so safely envied, that the severe storms of life never strike them, for there is nothing that tests strength of character but the storm of temptations.

Many people go through life to its close with the weak spots never tested because favorable circumstances have dealt so kindly with them. Yet the world admires men and women of sturdy character and rugged growth, who, like the rugged oak, are able to resist the storm, and come out of it stronger because of resistance.

If you study the character of these men and women, you will find that the sources of life and power are the unseen forces, so far below the surface that they take hold of an anchorage that is as safe and reliable as the power that permits the storm to rage, and controls it at its will.

There are three kingdoms where man reigns more or less supreme. The physical, the mental and the moral.

In the physical kingdom he frequently goes down before the blast, because of inherited weakness, for which he is not responsible. And yet it is possible to so carefully observe the laws of health as to reinforce the body, and render it capable of wonderful endurance. Many heroic lives, occupy frail tenements, and go on into the years fighting bravely against the storms that are only known to the physically weak. There is a choice spot somewhere in paradise for this class of heroes, and He who sees the end from the beginning, and plans for both worlds, will see that they are safely housed at last. It is comforting in the unequal struggle, to know that life continues beyond the confines of time, out into eternity where the physical kingdom ceases to annoy.

In the mental kingdom the contest is more evenly distributed, and men and women may make of themselves very largely what they will. It is not possible or desirable that many of them should aspire to be intellectual giants, but it is possible, and most desirable, that every man and strength. It is needed on the farm, and in the shop and store, just as much as in the office or college. The world has use for intelligent people in every calling of life, and it is possible for men and women to be intensely intelligent in every department of human toil.

You ride through the country, and note conditions. This farm is thoroughly cultivated. Everything about the place denotes thrift and prosperity. You say "This man is an intelligent farmer. He has mastered his business," and you have uttered the finest compliment that could be paid to a man in any calling.

You go into a shop where a hundred men are employed, and study character. You will notice here and there a man who is not a machine. He invests his work with intelligence and the interests of his employer become to his interests. He possesses mental as well as physical strength and in five years you will find him at the head of a department, or in business for himself.

And so all through the busy work shop of life, men and women work out their own destinies very largely as they improve or neglect the mental resources of life.

In the moral kingdom, conditions are entirely different, and men and women, regardless of environments or surroundings, may become giants if they will.

The endowment of health may not be evenly distributed, and circumstances may interfere with mental development, but the kingdom of God in the realm of the heart, is a universal kingdom and the God who established it is never away on a journey or too weary to superintend it.

The sources of strength are always available, and never lacking unless the will of man shuts off the supply. The storms of life are constantly assailing this kingdom, but it stands more firmly than the oak, because its anchorage takes hold of the eternities.

It is well for human life when the physical kingdom totters, as it sooner or later will, and when through age and infirmity the mental kingdom relaxes its grasp, to realize that the moral kingdom stands out as a tower of strength that no storm can successfully assail.

SAINT PATRICK'S DAY.

Tomorrow is Saint Patrick's day. One of the days that is observed by Irish Catholics all over the world. A peculiar significance attaches to the day because it commemorates the life of one of the early saints, a life that is held in reverence by people of the same nationality, because of its purity and goodness. The life of every good character is worthy of emulation, and so the life of Saint Patrick touches the thought and inspires the lives of kindred spirits with holy desires, and stronger purposes to do right. Anything that leads men and women out of themselves, and away from selfishness is helpful. The spirit that prompts the worship of Saint Patrick is the spirit that prompts all worship, and it is not the spirit of evil. The old saint has been dead for nearly 1,500 years, but his name and his influence, which was always strong for good, still live. When the clouds are rolled away and the saints and worshippers of every land gather in one common eternity, the route over which they traveled to accomplish the journey will not be considered important.

AN INTERESTING CHURCH SOCIAL

The Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church gave a most enjoyable social in the church parlors last evening and the informal program arranged gave plenty of opportunity for a merry time. Each person present was handed a slip of paper on which was written a line of a well-known song. Everyone then started out to find the balance of their song and the search created much amusement and general sociability. When a verse of a song had been matched up those in whose possession it was found were required to sing it to an original tune. The program which resulted was very funny, some of the vocalists appearing in weird costumes and masked faces. The program of games included an interesting contest. On the walls of the rooms were pinned cards on which were drawn pen and ink sketches representing some familiar proverbs. These cards were numbered and the contestants were required to fill out their blank lists with the proverbs which the pictures represented. The illustrated proverbs were the work of Miss Mary Mount and showed creditable originality as well as fine artistic ability.

During the evening Miss Eva Packard furnished some very enjoyable piano music. At a seasonable hour chocolate and wafers were served after which there was a little informal sociability and then goodnights were said.

CLEAR SPACE FOR A FREIGHT HOUSE

MILWAUKEE ROAD PLANS ON NORTH MAIN STREET.

Edward Inman Today Sold All the Buildings on the Property Owned by the Road—Possibly it May Also Mean a New Passenger Depot for Janesville.

Edward Inman today disposed of all of the buildings on the property on North Main street, supposed to be owned by the Chicago and Northwest-owned by the C. M. & St. P. R. R. This property extends from the Windsor hotel on the south to Pease court on the north, and includes all of the lots in blocks 35 and 36 that front on Main street with the exception of the Windsor hotel and A. N. Jones' warehouse. They also own the lot on Pease Court in the rear.

An order to make room for the contemplated improvements on the part of the owners it is necessary that all of the buildings should be removed at once. The buyers get only the wood that is in the buildings, the parties selling reserving all of the brick and stone in them for their own purposes. The two story brick veneered building just north of the Windsor and the old frame in the rear was bought by E. Baum for $17. The frame house north of the building was sold to P. Oleson for $40. John P. Wright bought the stone house on the corner for $23. Thoroughgood & Co. purchased the barn in the rear of the square brick house for $16. A. M. Smith bought the Doty house for $90. George Barriage bought the house nearest Jones' warehouse on the Fathers lot for $41. R. A. Phelps bought the little house on the Fathers lot for $15 and the barn back of the Doty house for $20. There are two more buildings on this property which have not been disposed of on account of a dispute.

The successful bidders have been notified to get their property off of the lots by the last of the month, so that improvements contemplated by the owners can be made.

The property undoubtedly belongs to the C. M. & St. P. R. R. It gives them sufficient room to build a large freight depot with room for all the tracks necessary to handle their business.

This property is well situated for freight purposes and will give the railroad company a freight depot right on the main street of the town. If the company puts up a good station it will have a tendency to increase the price of all property on North Main street.

This road already has tracks on North Main street and it would be an easy matter for them to lay tracks through to the property from which the buildings are to be removed.

ELABORATE CHAFING DISH LUNCHEON

Miss Ruth Culver Was the Charming Hostess of a Full Dress Affair Last Night.

Miss Ruth Culver was the charming hostess at an elaborate chafing dish luncheon given at her home, 354 Court street last evening. It was a full dress affair and was one of the most delightful social events of the season.

Invitations were issued for eight o'clock and after an hour or so of music and merriment the guests were ushered into the dining room where the long dining table was handsomely spread and the covers were laid for twelve. A banquet lamp occupied the center of the table and the rosy light through the red globe cast a warm tinge of color over the attractive scene. The rich red hangings of the room made an effective setting for the handsome evening gowns and the contrasting evening dress of their escorts. A chafing dish stood at either end of the table and a delicious two-course luncheon was prettily served.

After the luncheon was served several flash light pictures were taken and the balance of the evening was devoted to the enjoyment of dancing.

Call From Editor Scott.

E. J. Scott of Delavan, proprietor and editor of the Delavan Enterprise was one of the visiting delegation at the meeting of Rock River encampment, No. 3, I. O. O. F., last evening and took occasion to make a friendly call at the Gazette office. Mr. Scott was formerly in the newspaper business in New Richmond, but his personal experiences during the cyclone persuaded him that he would find Southern Wisconsin much more comfortable. Mr. Scott was in the basement when the cyclone struck, completely demolishing his printing outfit. He himself was pinned to the floor for four hours by a large stone which rested on his nose. Eighteen people were killed in that basement and Editor Scott's house, a frame building just a short distance from his office, was unharmed.

CITY COUNCIL WILL ACCEPT THE GIFT

IT WILL HAVE ENTIRE CHARGE OF LIBRARY BUILDING.

Meeting of the Library Board Held Last Night and a Committee Appointed to Notify the Council of the Carnegie Offer—Question of Site Was Discussed.

A meeting of the public library board was held yesterday afternoon and Stanley B. Smith was appointed a committee of one to send a formal expression of gratitude to Andrew Carnegie for his generous offer of $30,000 for a new library building.

Supt. D. D. Mayne, Mrs. Ogden H. Fethers and Judge Charles L. Fifeid, were made a committee to officially notify the common council of Mr. Carnegie's offer and to request the council to accept the gift under the stipulated conditions, the purchasing of a suitable site and passing an ordinance for the annual support of the library.

The appointment of these committees was all the definite action taken at the meeting. The balance of the time was spent in mutual congratulation over the gift and in the discussion of how and by whom the money will be administered.

Members of the library board know no more concerning the manner in which the work will proceed, but it was their opinion, without looking up the law in the matter, that the library board would have only such power in the erection of the building as was granted to it by the city council.

The first step must be for the council to accept the gift and so notify Mr. Carnegie. Until that is done all discussion of the future work must be based on speculation.

Doubtless, however, Mr. Carnegie will make some conditions and it is very probable that he will require that both the site and plans receive the approval of himself or representative. It is also understood that Mr. Carnegie generally stipulates the material of which the building is to be constructed and that he prefers it to be a stone representative of the state in which the building is located if possible.

Although no member of the library board is authorized to speak for Mr. Carnegie it was the general opinion based on the observation of the experience of other places, that the gift would be available immediately upon the council's acceptance and the arrangement of the final conditions.

The question of site also came up for discussion and while the members decided that in this also the council had complete authority to act for the city, unless it delegated its authority to a committee or to the library board, it was a noticeable fact that there was no evidence of any feeling as to east or west side. To the library board the best site is the one best suited to library needs and most available to the city.

An interesting fact was brought out at yesterday's meeting. Miss Skavien, assistant librarian, stated that since the announcement of Mr. Carnegie's gift, the use of the library had very visibly increased. People who had never before visited the rooms had become library patrons within the last two weeks.

A BEAUTIFUL LIFE CLOSED IN DEATH

Mrs. George W. Wise Passed Away at 7 O'clock Last Evening from a Stroke of Paralysis.

A beautiful life of devotion to home, family and friends ended last evening at 7 o'clock when Mrs. George W. Wise closed her eyes, never again to open them on earthly scenes. Mrs. Wise had not been strong physically for some time, and several days ago sustained a severe stroke of paralysis.

From the first it was feared that the stroke would prove fatal, and the stricken woman seemed to realize fully how serious her condition was. So strong was her fear that she would be a burden and care if she lived, that death was not unwelcome to her. Indeed the summons which brought so much of sorrow to those who loved her, meant only peace and blessed relief from a prospective life of invalidism to her.

Mrs. Wise was forty six years of age, and was born in the state of New York. About twenty-seven years ago she was united in marriage to Mr. Wise. They resided for a while in Stoughton, Wis., and sixteen years ago they came to this city, where they have made their home ever since.

Mrs. Wise was an ideal housewife, and her home was the center of her universe. Of high artistic taste, she gave much thought to making that home an attractive one both to her family and to her friends. Almost her last pleasure in life was derived from the redecoration of the interior of the house. She was a devoted wife, a fond, self sacrificing mother and a true friend.

She leaves a husband and one son, Morgan Wise, who is employed at Rockford. He was called home by his mother's illness and, yesterday morning, he went back to Rockford, returning, however, in time to be with his mother when the end came. One sister, Mrs. Hayes of Oregon, Wis., is also left.

The funeral services will be held from the home, 108 South High street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. R. C. Denison will officiate.

Funeral of George Sims

The funeral of the late George Sims was held at Afton this morning. It was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, many of whom accompanied the body to the grave. Rev. C. W. Olds of this city conducted the services and made some very touching remarks. The interment was in the Afton cemetery. The pall bearers were E. W. Sims, L. G. Sims, George Antsdel and William Miller.

Fine Musical Service.

The musical service at the Congregational church tomorrow morning will contain two selections of more than ordinary attractiveness. Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Adams, who are the guests of Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. Joanna Jones, at the State School for the Blind will sing the offertory selection and there will also be a solo by Mr. Walker of Aurora, Ill. Mr. Warner is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Taylor.

Bus Drivers in a War.

The Bus Drivers' union and Stables' Protective association had a hot contest at the Northwestern passenger station last evening. Two members of the protective association had it in for a member of the union and went up to the station to settle the matter. The union men proved too strong for the association members and proceeded to beat them up into a peak. The association decided it had had enough of the battle and withdrew from the field. The police took a hand in the contest today and landed one of the members of the protective association in the lock-up.

LIFE SAVED BY COACHMAN.

Mrs. Laura Roosevelt has narrow escape in New York runaway.

New York, March 16.—Mrs. Laura O. Roosevelt, widow of J. West Roosevelt, a first cousin of the vice-president, had a narrow escape in a runaway on Broadway in the after-theatre crush. For a time it looked as if the outcome would be serious, and only the presence of mind of the coachman saved the occupants of the carriage. The reins broke and the horses bolted, making a wild dash for four blocks. Seeing a mass of vehicles ahead of him the driver threw his weight on the single rein, turning the team into a side street, where the horses slipped and fell on the wet asphalt. Except for a few bruises Mrs. Roosevelt, her mother and sister, Mrs. and Miss d'Oreleux, were unhurt.

TRACES OF SHIPWRECK.

Flotsam at Nantucket Indicates Loss of a Steamer.

Nantucket, Mass., March 16.—Quantities of stray wreckage and the carcasses of three horses and a number of sheep that have come ashore on the south side bear evidence of marine disaster.

The carcasses of the animals to all appearances had not been in the water over forty-eight hours, being in an excellent state of preservation.

It is generally supposed that a cattle steamer has been wrecked among the shoals stretching for miles to the southward of Nantucket island. When one of the horses was discovered on the beach near Great Neck life saving station it was still alive, but died in a few minutes.

Madden gave the signal in his opening address and the speakers that followed him took up the theme.

Judge Dillard opposed the passage of the bill allowing railways outside the state to lease Texas railways not over 115 miles in length. The bill passed. Today Judge Dillard said: "I am going home. This legislature is controlled by the railway lobby, and I have lost more self-respect since I came here than I will ever regain. I have been to the theater, where I paid my money, and I have seen the boxes full of legislators who were guests of railway lawyers. I will go to my people and tell them what I have seen and heard, and will ask them what they want me to do. I have my resignation written out and am ready to send it to the governor."

A CRY FOR HELP.

Result of a Prompt Reply.—Two Letters from Mrs. Watson, Published by Special Permission.—For Women's Eyes Only.

March 15, 1899.

To MRS. PINKHAM, LYNN, MASS.:

"DEAR MADAM:—I am suffering from inflammation of the ovaries and womb, and have been for eighteen months. I have a continual pain and soreness in my back and side. I am only free from pain when lying down, or sitting in an easy chair. When I stand I suffer with severe pain in my side and back. I believe my troubles were caused by over work and lifting some years ago.

"Life is a drag to me, and I sometimes feel like giving up ever being a well woman; have become careless and unconcerned about everything. I am in bed now. I have had several doctors, but they did me but little good.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been recommended to me by a friend, and I have made up my mind to give it a fair trial.

"I write this letter with the hope of hearing from you in regard to my case."—Mrs. S. J. Watson, Hampton, Va.

November 27, 1899.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to acknowledge to you the benefit that your advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me.

"I had been suffering with female troubles for some time, could walk but a short distance, had terrible bearing down pains in lower part of my bowels, backache, and pain in ovary. I used your medicine for four months and was so much better that I could walk three times the distance that I could before.

"I am to-day in better health than I have been for more than two years, and I know it is all due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I recommend your advice and medicine to all women who suffer."—Mrs. S. J. Watson, Hampton, Va.

This is positive proof that Mrs. Pinkham is more competent to advise sick women than any other person. Write her. It costs you nothing.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission.

CONVICTS COWED BY GUARDS

Twelve Prisoners Try to Get Freedom.

ON THE ROOF HALF FROZEN.

Crawl Through a Ventilator Flue at the Nebraska State Penitentiary, but Are Unable to Go Past Sentinels—Had Saved Gratings.

Lincoln, Neb., March 16.—Only the presence of the Nebraska militia on guard at the state penitentiary prevented the escape of twelve convicts from there. Mounting from the floor of the cellhouse to the top of the roof through a ventilator flue, after first sawing through an iron grating and big iron bars at the lower end, the twelve prisoners looked over the top edge of the front wall down to the road below only to see four vigilant guardsmen patrolling ceaselessly along the front of the building. Though the criminals had rope ample enough to throw them to the ground, they dared not risk a meeting with the Springfield rifles and steel-capped leaden pellets awaiting them and, cowed from the accomplishment of their purpose, they huddled down together in the great drain trough along the edge of the roof just behind the abutting wall and lay there shivering, some without shoes, others only in their underclothing, till they were discovered by Deputy Warden Bowers shortly after 6 p. m., and marched down to dark dungeons below.

Escape from a Cellhouse.

The cell from which the attempt was made is the only portion of the penitentiary which was not destroyed in the fire of two weeks ago. It is unfitted with cells or any prison equipment, having never before been used. The men, 285 in number, are herded there in a bunch at night and sleep on improvised wooden bunks. These are ranged along the wall, in which is the mouth of the ventilator, and screened the men in their work, which they have been carrying on at night ever since the fire and intended to culminate last night. The ventilators are of stone and run straight up through the solid outside wall, being eighteen inches square on the inside. The convicts, equipped with a plumber's metal saw, two sold-chisels, two small sledges, files and a dagger, their possession of which is unexplained, cut through the heavy iron grating over the flue opening and then through stick steel bars farther up.

Had Almost Burrowed Out.

The first started to burrow straight through the outside wall on the level of the ground, and took out huge chunks of stone, which were discovered later in the day hidden in the ventilator. When within a few inches of the outside, however, they became discouraged and determined to flee via the roof. They stole a quantity of rope from the broom factory and worked up forty-five feet to the top of the ventilator tower. They dropped to the roof, but feared to face the soldiers, having supposed that no watch or a very loose one was kept. Cowering in the big rain gutter behind the parapet at the edge, the criminals nearly froze, and one of them weakened early in the morning, wishing to be discovered and taken back to the warm cellhouse, but, fearing his companions, he stealthily threw a bottle and then a stone at the nearest patrolman. The soldier surmised the missile must have come from the roof, but could see no one. He reported the matter, and orders were given to shoot any one on the roof on sight or any convict showing himself outside the walls.

Roll Call Reveals Absentees.

A roll call was then taken in the cellhouse and twelve absentees discovered. The deputy warden and a guard mounted to the roof and found the men, half frozen. They were utterly cowed and came down without a murmur to the dark cells for punishment. Two were clothed only in the blankets from their beds. Another had citizens' clothes, obtained from some source. Few had shoes. All twelve were robbers, with sentences ranging from two to thirteen years.

Sir Edwin Arnold's Eyes Fail.

New York, March 16.—The Herald says that a letter just received in New York from Sir Edwin Arnold shows that he has been obliged to relinquish much of his active literary work owing to blindness. In his letter he says: "My condition would be a sad one without patience and resignation. I never despair and go on with my work, thanking heaven for my unimpaired mental powers."

DEATH IN COMPOSING ROOM.

Three Employees of Boston Advertiser Suffocated by Smoke.

Boston, Mass., March 16.—Three men employed in the composing-room of the Boston Daily Advertiser were suffocated by a fire which gutted the building at No. 248 Washington street, between 9 and 10 o'clock p. m. Another man was seriously injured by jumping. The dead are: Walter Luscomb, compositor, 32 years old, married; Judson Crafts, proofreader, 55 years old, married, and James E. Richardson, proofreader, 58 years old, widower. The escape of the other men working in the editorial and composing rooms, on the sixth and seventh floors, respectively, was miraculous. Only two men got down the stairway—Russell Hathaway, Jr., assistant night editor, and a Dr. Bell, visiting him. Then the flames filled and stopped the retreat. Frank Blair, night managing editor, and S. I. Tonjoroff, night editor, tried the stairway, but were driven back by a wall of fire after coming down two flights, and took to the fire escape on the south side of the building. The loss is estimated at $350,000, fully covered by insurance.

Going to Build

Whether you contemplate building at an early date or not, you should have a copy of BAKER'S TWENTIETH CENTURY HOME. It is the most complete book of Architectural Designs published. Nearly 150 pages, printed on heavy cream paper. It is not a theoretical book. Every description is from the actual working plans of buildings that have been erected under the direction of our supervising architect. Consequently it is practical in every respect. It embraces subjects from an attractive cottage at a few hundred dollars to a modern, up-to-date residence, costing many thousands of dollars. The perspectives are full-page illustrations while the floor plans are half-page sketches. The descriptions are complete and easily understood; in fact it is an ideal book of practical, up-to-date designs and intelligent descriptions. The regular price is $2.00 but we would like to present you a copy free of charge. If you could call at our office we would be pleased to present you a copy free of charge. As this is not possible, we will send you a copy by express, charges prepaid upon receipt of only 25c, to cover cost of transportation.
